North star whose flame burns crimson, white and blue

From thy proud portals light horizons new;

Betty you might be

don't see how you

Shine where thy children serve and vigil keep;

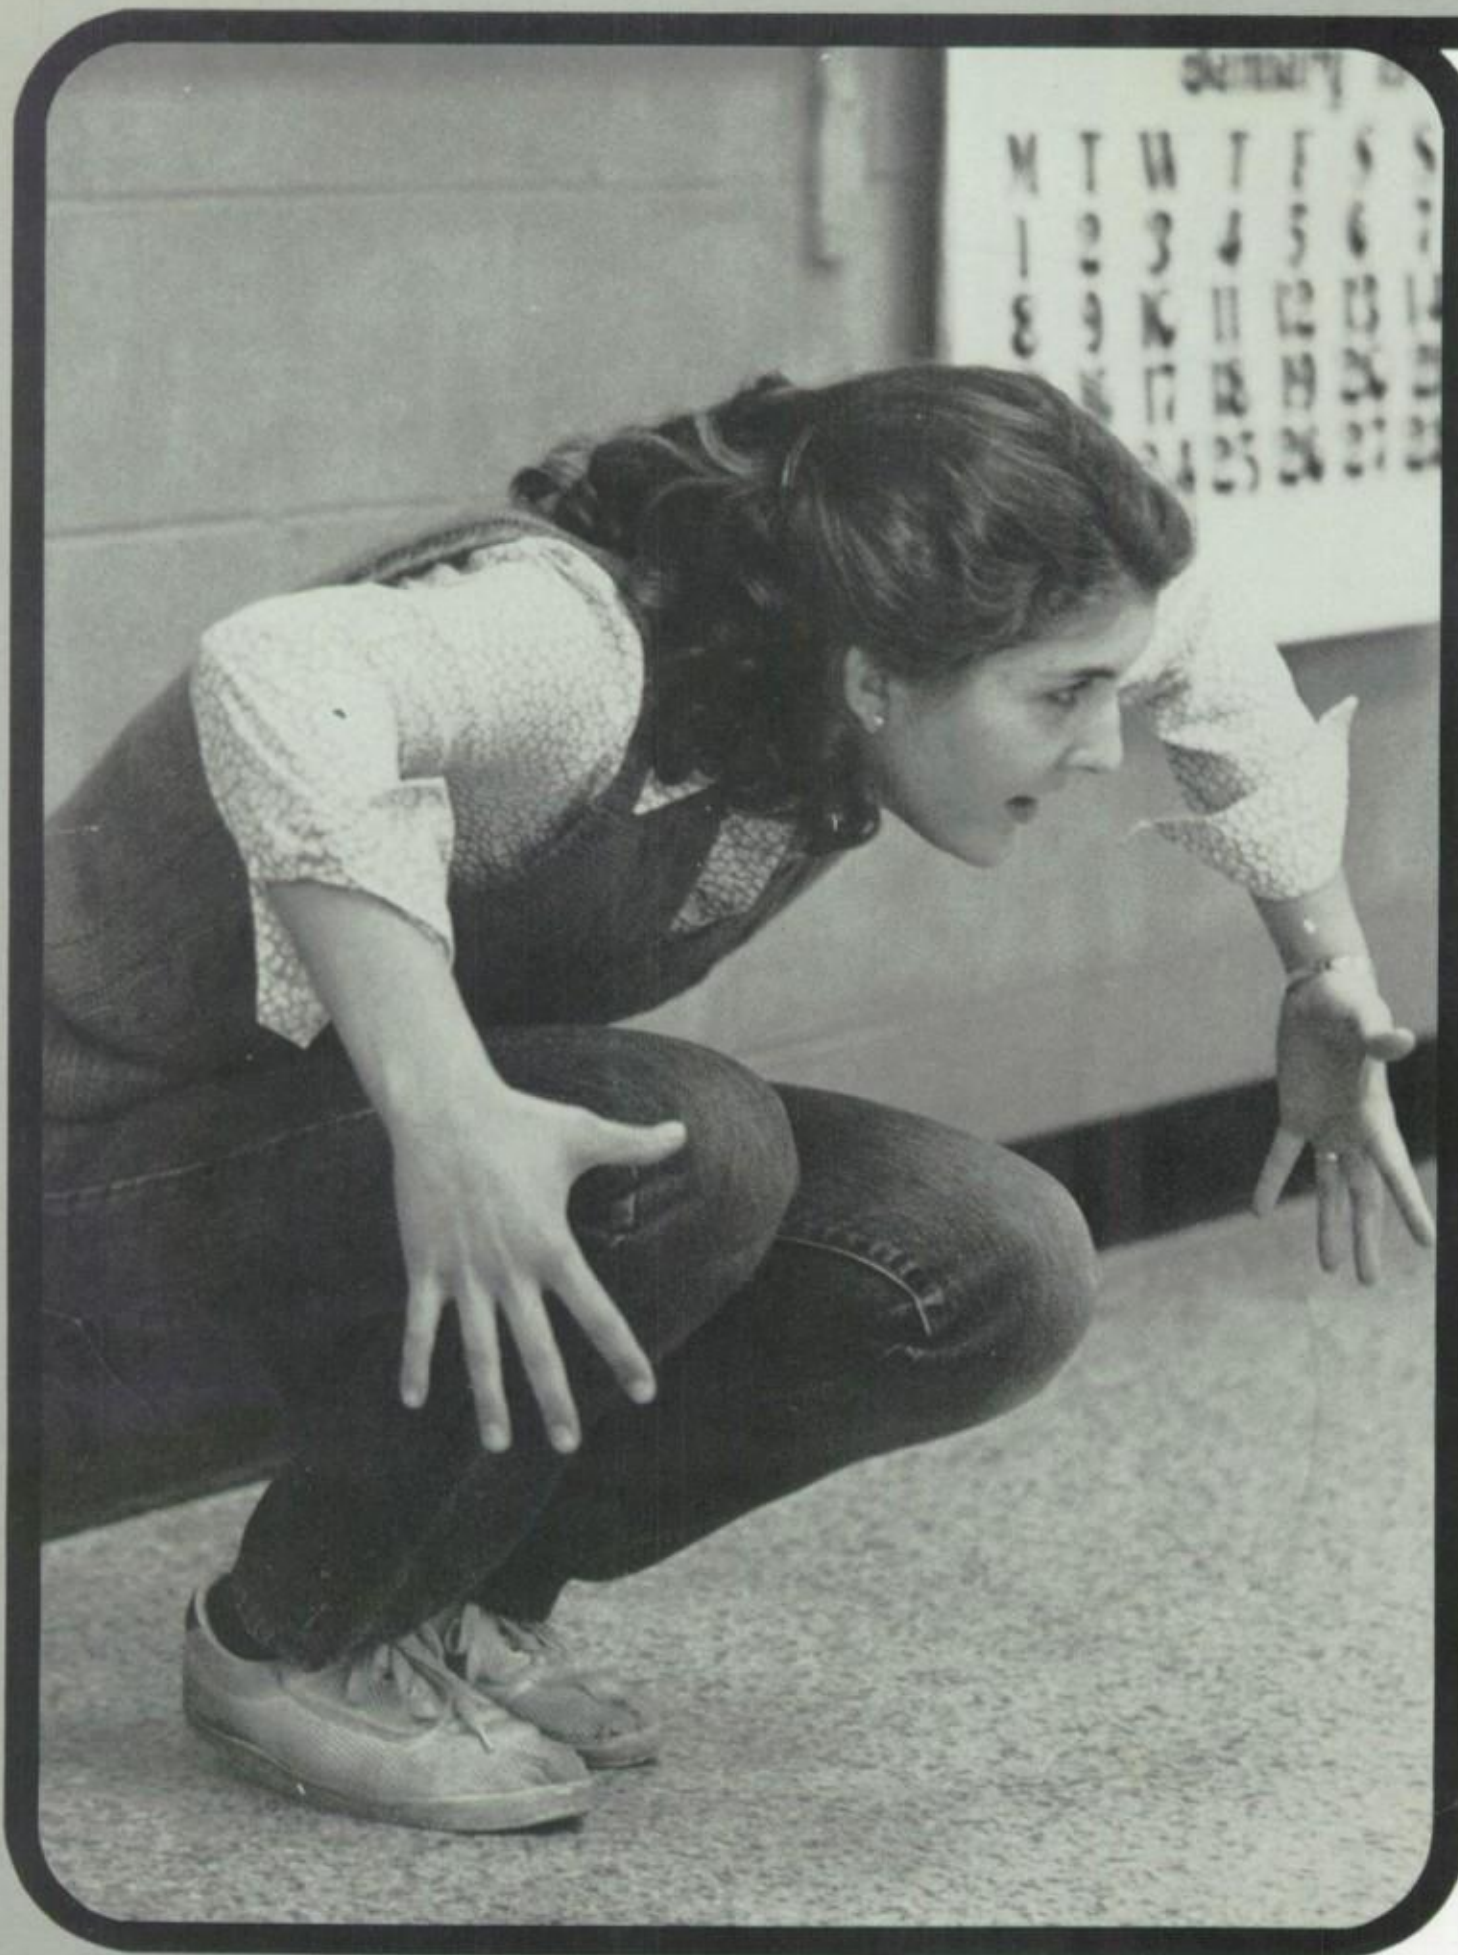

Kindle thy torch where hope lies fast asleep.

 This is my first year

Have You Got That Spirit? Varsity Cheerleaders Do.

Our Varsity Cheerleaders accomplished a great deal this year in developing enthusiasm among the spectators. In addition, they constructed spirit chains, conducted Spirit Week, and the Christmas Dance, and held a pep rally before school. Their excellent performances in the Frank Spencer Classic and pep rally at Hanes Mall highlighted the year and proved that VIKING POWER still prevails.

Vikings Capture District 8 Crown.

The Viking gridiron team captured for the first time in five years the District 8 crown. Coach Roy Huskins had nothing but praise for his players when the trophy was presented at one of the last football pep rallies.

For the second year in a row the North Forsyth Vikings were successful in defeating R.J. Reynolds, cross town rival. This year's contest was a classic defensive struggle. The Vikings held off a last second rally, coming away with a celebrated 7-6 victory. The Vikings advanced into the state play-offs where they suffered a disappointing loss to East Burke, thus ending hopes of another state championship.

Several students also participated in the Northwest North Carolina Clinic Band at Boone. Band students also added their talents to football games, basketball games, pep rallies, and the spring musical, "Fiddler on the Roof." Also, concerts were given at Christmas and in the spring.

It was up to the Drum Major to see that the half-time show ran smoothly.

Killer Kicks, Sharp Routines . . .

North Valkyries for 1978-79 played an active role in boosting school spirit at all sporting events this year. Participating at pep rallies, football games, and basketball games, the girls definitely had one of the most active years in their existence at North Forsyth. In one particular pep rally, they displayed their great support for our athletes by presenting the football team with a trophy. They also performed for crowds of people in the Carolina Street Scene, the Christmas Parade, and the Frank Spencer Classic. In essence, the Valkyries showed their love for North Forsyth this year and certainly helped strengthen true VIKING PRIDE.

Coach Goodwin attentively observes the performance of his tennis team.

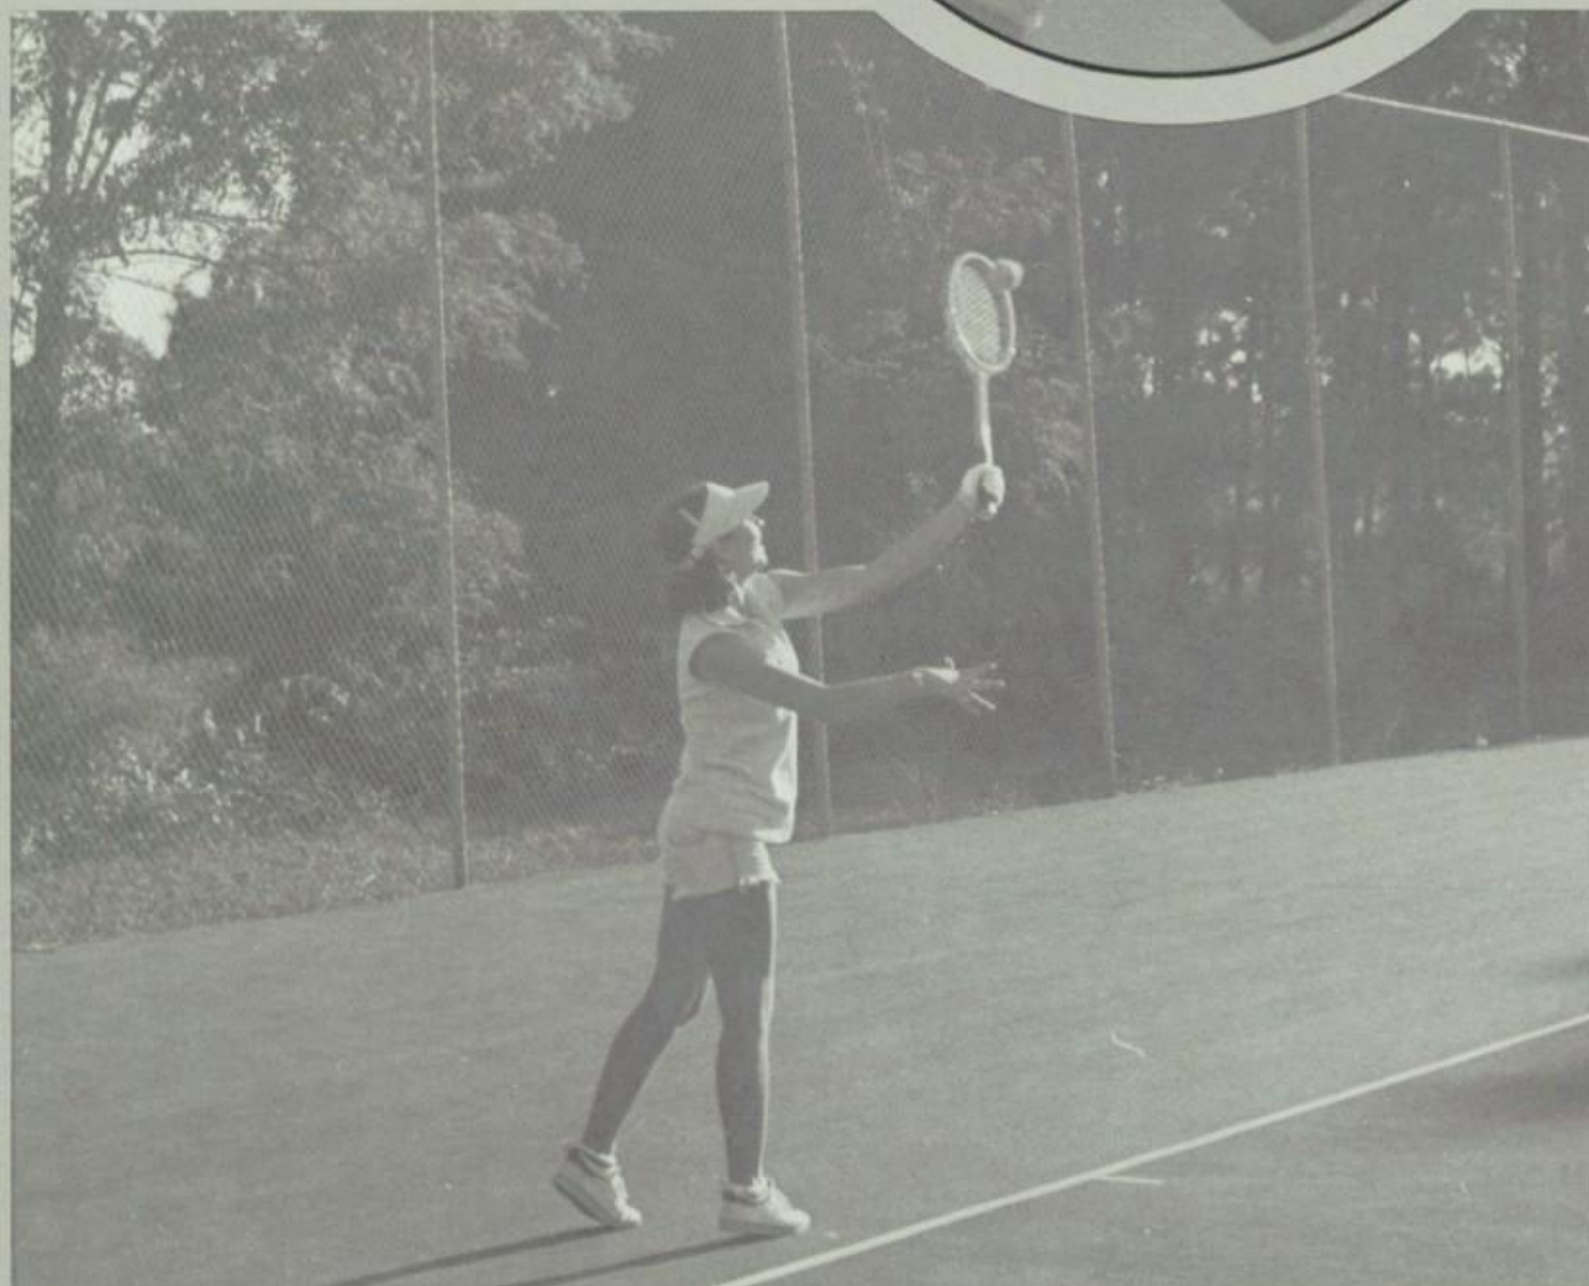

Beginning the season with a whole new team was rough for the 1978-79 girls' tennis coaches. No players returned from last year; therefore, an entirely different line-up was set for this year with only two seniors and five juniors.

The season was definitely not a total loss because every girl showed evidence of improvement. The addition of a ball machine and outstanding players from various feeder schools should prove for a successful team next year.

With a show of strength, Rhonda Hauser returns a serve.

Paige Allen shows her serving form.

North Places One On All District 8 Team.

As far as the 1978-79 North Forsyth Volleyball Team is concerned, records are not everything. All eleven of the girls had a great time playing this season and they improved enormously. The most important outcome of the season, however, was the naming of Teresa Coe to the All District 8 Team.

The 1978-79 cross country team ran up an impressive record this year. They finished second in the conference only behind R.J. Reynolds. Again behind R.J. Reynolds, the team qualified for the state meet by placing second in the sectionals. The Viking runners, bearing an 11-3 record, placed seventh in the state behind the strong performances of seniors David Hawkins, Sammy Hancock, Peter Nachand, and Kenny Howard.

North Forsyth regained the top spot in the area with a heartstopping win in the Frank Spencer Classic. With just seconds showing on the clock, Mike King tapped in the final shot to raise the Vikings to a 54-52 victory over West Forsyth. Coach Shuler led his Viking team to an impressive 19-4 overall record, a second Spencer Classic championship in three years, and a regular season conference championship.

Under new head coach, Mr. Park, North Forsyth's Junior Varsity got off to a good start by winning both of their opening games. By getting solid play from the five starters, North's Junior Varsity completed a respectable season, finishing with a 7-11 overall record. Clarence Miller was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates for his outstanding leadership qualities.

Having only seven girls to work with can be a major problem on any cheerleading squad. Nevertheless, this year's Junior Varsity Cheerleaders have overcome this barrier and have gained a lot of experience and knowledge while doing so. During football season they helped develop spirit by sitting in the stands with the crowd. Also, they cheered with the Varsity Cheerleaders during Homecoming ceremonies. They cheered in all basketball pep rallies and definitely boosted the spirit of the Junior Varsity Basketball Team.

... Awaiting a hopeful rebound ...

Under the outstanding leadership of original coach, Ms. McLean, and former professional player, Ms. Evans, the 1978-79 Girls' Basketball Team showed much improvement over past years. Although their record was not quite up to their expectations, the girls realize how far they came this year and they have great hopes for the coming year. With a squad of mainly juniors who will be returning next year, a winning season is hopeful.

The North Forsyth Wrestlers, led by first-year coach Bruce Ramsey, pinned their way into a fair season. Returning wrestler Johnny Simon wrestled his way into a second place finish in the District Wrestling Tournament.

The highlight of the season came during the Parkland Wrestling Invitational Tournament at Christmas when Bill Menner captured first place.

Throughout the season, the Girls' Softball Team strived to win under the qualified leadership of student teachers John Nelms and Alan Parker. Although the team had many extremely close games, defeating High Point Central, 5-2, highlighted the softball season.

Cynthia Spears, an outstanding player, was named Most Valuable Player and also to the All-City Team.

Under observation, Janet Southern scoops up a low ball.

Talent Pays Off In The Records.

Kathy Henry and Beverly Boykin stride towards the finish line to overcome a Smith defender.

The Girls' Track Team for 1978 was blessed with talent especially in its most outstanding relay team. The team, consisting of Millicent Oliver, Clementine Fowler, Beverly Boykin, and Cheryl McRae, set new records in the mile relay of 14:17 and in the 880 relay of 1:48.

Although the team had many talented athletes, their record was not up to their expectations. The team, however, never placed last in a single meet.

Boys Run To A Good Season.

The Viking Track Team ran up an impressive 6-3 record and in the process broke several school records. Clarence Mack and Chris Horton came in first and second in the 100 yard dash in every meet, setting a senior record of 9.7 and a junior record of 9.8. Through the efforts of a number of returning seniors, next year's team promises to equal or surpass this year's mark.

Tie Goes To The . . .

Mike Muse makes a clean catch.

Through a controversial play at home plate in the second Reynolds game, the Viking sluggers lost a chance at the State Playoffs. Nevertheless, they played with the intensity of true champions. While compiling a 16-4 record, many of the Viking players showed great promise for furthering their baseball careers. Led by a pitching staff composed of four seniors and a well-disciplined corps of juniors, the Vikings were not to be taken lightly. The success of next year's team hinges on the ability to fill the voids left at the pitcher and catcher spots. Returning seniors will be headed by All-Conference shortstop Jeff Tuttle.

Mike Hauser pulls in another fly ball.

Jeff Tuttle and Bobby O'Connor turn an easy double play.

A Dedication to the Class of '79

As I turn the corners of yesterday
slowly to the past,
The eagerness of graduation has caught
me, oh, so fast.
The troubles that I've conquered, the friends that I've gained —
All of this I leave so suddenly with memories to remain.
Sad and happy at once, I've never felt this way.
I want to see my future, and I want my past to stay.
So many tears and smiles will pass
us by that day.
When this time is over, I'll start my life
my way.
When all the names are called and diplomas received at last,
I'll turn the corner of yesterday and remember this as Past!

To Betty,

A young lady whom I have not known over two years. But I know from my experienced in class that you are crazy. I can think of a lot of times in school that you came in dripping I want say from what you were dripping off of. I don't want everyone to think you are a bad little girl. I want you to know that I will remember you kicking ^{me} under the table. But I'm not mad Betty because I kicked you back. So I feel good about it. Sometime I think of you as being smart (Smile). But I know you have a lot of sense, but you show it when you are trying to do your work, which is sometime. I'm sure you will go far in life, and become something special to Tyrone, or maybe give him something special (baby). Don't rush into it kid. Get everything out of life, make your dreams come true. Work at your goal, don't let anyone tell you ~~you~~ that you can't do it. I'm sure that you can do anything you want to (Good Luck) in the future.
